

Syndicus NACON Strategic Staffing

Who is Syndicus NACON?

Syndicus was established in 2007 as a technical recruiting and staffing company. In 2009, Syndicus expanded its focus to include technical staffing and consulting for both commercial and governmental clients in the areas of:

- ◆ Health IT
- ◆ Technology Services
- ◆ Life Sciences Solutions
- ◆ Cleared Government Contractors

Syndicus merged with NACON in February 2018 to combine its strengths of IT staffing and solutions, along with NACON's federal government contracts.

We pride ourselves in partnering with top subject matter experts who ensure candidates, consultants and solutions meet our clients' specialized needs.

Companies require specialized resources and technology to stay competitive, compliant and leading edge to solve business challenges and support continued growth. And one way that they realize time and cost savings associated with finding the most qualified resources is by connecting with a strategic staffing partner such as Syndicus NACON.

At Syndicus NACON, we create strong relationships and an in-depth understanding of your company and its staffing needs. Using that knowledge, we then work with you to recruit, develop and deploy talent required to fulfill your company's specific objectives and optimal business strategies.

What sets us apart in our consulting focus areas — Health IT, Technology Services, Life Sciences Solutions and Cleared Government Contractors — is that we have senior subject matter experts on staff who both work with clients to address industry-specific needs and help to qualify candidates. This means that the professionals we recruit and retain from our well-established talent pool will always align with position requirements and our clients' business objectives.

Specializing in consulting contracts and permanent placements, Syndicus NACON value-adds include:

- ◆ Proficiency in discovering hard-to-find skillsets.
- ◆ Supplementing in-house recruiting teams.
- ◆ Providing senior HR experience and advice.
- ◆ Applying an academy approach to our service.
- ◆ Flexible hiring practices — temporary, contract, contract-to-hire and permanent placement.
- ◆ Providing resources at a fair price — at better than market rate.

By being flexible and working with our clients the way they prefer to be engaged, we can help you save money, stay competitive and meet company-specific goals by finding the right talent at the right time.
